Statista
The Statistics Portal
eDesiderata  edesiderata.crl.edu

An online platform developed by CRL to gather and organize e-resources of interest to CRL libraries, solicit member input, and track the progress of negotiations and take-up.

A place for sharing information and opinions about e-resources.
The New York Times, published in New York City since 1851, is the largest metropolitan newspaper in the United States. The New York Times has long been an important source of reporting, information, and opinion, on politics, finance, health, science, culture, the arts, sports, and fashion in the U.S. and abroad, with special emphasis on the New York metropolitan area.

The online version of the Times, at www.nytimes.com, launched in 1996, includes not only the same articles, features and images that appear in the print edition, but a wealth of additional still image, video, audio, graphics, and database content. It also includes much of the content of the print edition...

Cooperative Collection Building

Through CRL, knowledgeable individuals at college, university, and independent research libraries in the United States, Canada and Hong Kong work together to identify, preserve, and acquire collections that support advanced research and teaching. CRL promotes the efforts of these communities of interest by maintaining access to extensive shared collections. CRL's three longstanding cooperative collection building programs enable CRL libraries to expand the range of essential source materials available to researchers at their institutions while saving local acquisitions and storage costs.

- Demand Purchase Program
- Purchase Proposal Program
- Shared Purchase Program

CRL's Member Liaison & Outreach Services Director works with librarians, faculty, and students from member libraries to identify and select materials for addition to CRL collections.
Purchase Proposal Program

http://www.crl.edu/collections/cooperative-collection-building/purchase-proposal-program

Provides access to collections that may be too costly or esoteric for individual libraries to acquire

- Cost: $1000 or more
- Not readily available through interlibrary loan
- Form a coherent unit or easily definable class

A “how to” video tutorial explaining the steps of nomination and voting for the Purchase Proposal Program is now available on CRL’s YouTube Channel: www.youtube.com/crldotedu Shared Purchase Proposal Program

http://www.crl.edu/collections/cooperative-collection-building/shared-purchase-program

• Voluntary program

• Nominating library and CRL provide seed funding

• Members pledge funds for cooperative purchase

• Could be sets that were not of wide enough interest to warrant purchase through the Purchase Proposal program

• Could be sets for which a library may not wish to wait for the Purchase Proposal Ballot
Examples of materials purchased through these programs

Central American Archives

Files of the Communist Party of Japan

Dissertation: Population Geography of the Refugee Camps in the West Bank

Marketing Tools

http://www.crl.edu/membership/make-most-your-crl-membership/publicity-tools

CRL provides materials and information to help member institutions promote CRL resources and services locally. For a supply of collection brochures or a customized flyer, or to discuss ways to promote CRL on campus, please contact memberservices@crl.edu.

CRL Collections Brochures

The depth and diversity of CRL’s primary source materials and collection highlights are showcased in a color printed brochure. Designed to help CRL libraries spread the word among library staff, research and teaching faculty, students, and others, the brochures are available in quantity at no cost on request.

CRL Flyers

Available as a PDF file, CRL’s one-page flyer (which can be customized on request) is designed for mass distribution throughout the library, at seminars, faculty and student orientations, mailbox distribution, and other opportunities.

The flyer highlights CRL benefits and privileges that researchers appreciate most:

- Rich and diverse collections
- Unlimited access to CRL resources and project-length loans
- Digital delivery for many loan requests
